Ph.D. Conference in Economic Demography

The Research School in Economic Demography at the Centre for Economic Demography, Lund University will be hosting a conference for Ph.D. students interested in topics related to economic demography in May 2009. The conference is intended as a chance for Ph.D. candidates to present their research to a group of peers and senior researchers, as well as a forum where a lasting network with others interested in similar topics can be developed. The conference encompasses a very broad definition of economic demography, and welcomes applicants from any of the social and medical sciences working on population issues. Papers are welcomed within the fields of demography, sociology, public health, epidemiology, labour economics, and history. The conference will be organized as a series of sessions where participants present their papers and receive comments from a discussant as well as from other participants. All sessions will be in plenum, and the conference will begin with a keynote speaker (to be announced later).

Who: The conference is primarily intended for Ph.D. students active within Scandinavian universities, but applicants from other countries are also welcome. The conference language will be English.

When: 6-7 May, 2009

Where: Grand Hotel, Mölle (located by the coast, approximately 35 km from Ängelholm/Helsingborg)

Cost: Participation in the conference is free of charge, with the Research School in Economic Demography covering costs for food and lodging. Transportation to and from Mölle will be at the participant*s expense

Participation is limited. If you are interested in participating, please send your CV (max 2 pages), an abstract of the paper you intend to present, and a short letter from your supervisor to Madeleine.Jarl@ekh.lu.se no later than January 31, 2009. Deadline for submission of final paper is April 15, 2009
